Class 4	Topic: What a plant needs	Subject: Science
Subject Goals: The students should be able to: - know different jobs that dogs perform and can assign characteristics that are important for the specific jobs.		Linguistic Goals: Students should be able to: - name three different types of dogs and know some characteristics of the various types
Materials and Equipment: pictures of animals/transparency, pictures of different types of dogs on the blackboard/ word cards, yard stick, transparency, poster, different card of (good nose, good eyes..), worksheet 1, worksheet 2, worksheet 3, transparency with multiple choice, ampelkarten
Scheduled Progress
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Transparency of a dog is covered. Teacher shows picture of various animals (cat, rabbit, fish...)2. Children are supposed to talk about the animals and after each correct information the teacher puts away the pieces of the covering paper. This pattern is repeated until the children recognize that the dog is the topic of the lesson3. The teacher asks the students about dogs (do you like dogs? what do you know about them?).4. Teacher pins picture of different types of dogs to the blackboard and the children, with help from word cards, arrange them in categories (small/tall/brown/white/black).

5. Partner work: students get pictures and short texts about a breed of dog and the task to create a Description of this dog.
6. For each dog breed, a pair presents their description: while presenting they hold up cards with information to facilitate the listening of the others-show the height with a yard stick. The information will be written on the blackboard.
7. To review the results of the presentations, the students receive worksheet 1.
8. The teacher shows a transparency with a picture of a guide dog (mute impulse). Discussion about the picture. A poster is created with the whole class as an example for the following task.
9. Each group gets a poster and different cards (good nose, good eyes, quick runner). Each group gets one dog job and think about the characteristics the dog needs for the job, they have to agree on three cards to glue on the poster, each group is supervised by a member of their group.
10. The posters are hung up in different corners of the classroom. Each students gets a worksheet on which he/she has to tick the characteristics for the different dog jobs according to the posters.
11. Students create a sheet "my favourite dog is../my favourite dog can...,and draw a picture, Teacher shows multiple choice questions on a transparency concerning the topic (quiz). The students hold up "Ampelkarten".
